

MINER'S WINGS VISIT HEADS OF TREASURY

Financial Situation Is Thoroughly Gone Over
by Morgan and Baker.

Conferences Also Held at Other Departments.

Following extended conferences with the President and Secretary Cortelyou last night, J. Pierpont Morgan and George F. Baker, president of the First National Bank of New York, who came to Washington to discuss the financial situation, this morning saw several other officials close to the Administration, and informally discussed the matter of currency legislation.

Mr. Morgan declined to tell of his plans for the day, but it was announced by one of his friends that he and Mr. Baker would remain in Washington until late in the afternoon.

Talk With Officials.

During the morning Mr. Baker conferred with Senator Elkins of West Virginia and Comptroller of the Currency Ridgely. Mr. Morgan remained in conference for a few moments with Postmaster General Meyer, and just before noon was whirled away from the Arlington Hotel in a big touring car, declining to state whom he intended to see next.

"There is nothing to add to my statement of last night," said Mr. Morgan. "As to my plans for the day and when I shall return to New York, I have no definite plans. Can't I go and come without having to put the public on notice?" he added, rather testily.

After his conference with the President last night, Mr. Morgan said: "I just called upon the President to pay my respects. I really came to Washington to see Mr. Cortelyou and continue with him the discussion for measures of financial relief which were up in New York last week."

"I saw Mr. Cortelyou before entering the White House and am satisfied that things are progressing nicely. The situation is clearing up and the crisis is passed. I cannot go into details, but everything has been done and is being done that can be."

Mr. Morgan declined to say anything further on the financial situation or upon the subject of currency legislation. It is believed that one of the subjects discussed at the White House conference last night was that of a Federal Bank.

President Baker, of the First National Bank of New York, said today: "There is nothing to say upon the subject now. We have not decided exactly when we shall return to New York."

Elkins Visits Baker.

Senator Elkins remained in conversation with President Baker for half an hour. At its conclusion he said:

"We discussed matters very informally. I called principally to see Mr. Baker for personal reasons, and to compare the great work done by himself and Mr. Morgan during the recent financial difficulties. They are both convinced that the worst is passed."

"Of course, the ideas as to needed currency legislation, and there is no doubt that a great many ideas will be advanced in the coming Congress convenes. Out of all these we should get some that are feasible, and I believe that good work will be done. Just in what form this currency legislation will be enacted cannot be told at this time."

"My talk with Mr. Baker should not be taken as a formal conference, as we have been friends for about thirty-five years."

Postmaster General Meyer after his conference with Mr. Morgan said that he had mainly called to pay his respects and to compliment the Secretary of the Treasury building, which he had rendered during the money stringency.

After the short conference with the Postmaster General at the Arlington, Mr. Morgan was driven away in a closed automobile, while Mr. Baker walked to the Treasury building, going directly to the office of Comptroller Ridgely.

Treasury Certificates

Will Not Be Purchased
By Shrewd Speculators

The pronounced success of the 3 per cent Treasury certificates will enable Secretary Cortelyou to defeat any possible plans for their purchase for speculative purposes. The issue will not be "a popular issue" in the sense that was first contemplated.

Hereafter only those private individuals who can clearly show that the purchase price is not to be withdrawn from the banks, will be favored. By the adoption of this arrangement, the Treasury Department will be enabled, quickly and directly, to swell the money volume through increased public deposits and additional bank circulation.

At the time the certificate issue was decided upon, it was in the minds of the President and Secretary Cortelyou to get into circulation the money that had been withdrawn from the banks by timid depositors.

This phase of the financial crisis is not so prominent now, it is said. Deposits of banks have increased greatly, particularly with the post-war currency. The Administration's method of affording relief is reported by bankers in all sections of the country to have been potent in aiding in the restoration of confidence. It is held by Treasury officials, that if this is once regained, the disturbance will be passed.

The present embarrassment in many localities is caused by banks themselves hoarding money after their vigorous prosecution of Caruso, by powerful influences.

"It is a case of over-preparedness, and not lack of money," is the way a Treasury official put it today.

CARUSO'S PROSECUTOR DIES AFTER DISMISSAL

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—W. L. Mathot, formerly third deputy police commissioner, who prosecuted Caruso, the Metropolitan Opera house tenor, for his monkey house adventure, died today at his home in Richmond Hill, Brooklyn. Mathot was forced out of the department shortly after his vigorous prosecution of Caruso, by powerful influences.

His health broke shortly afterward and he had been ill the greater part of the last year.

He Cannot Be Found Later

—From the Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Y. M. C. A. HEARS OF THE WORK IN FOREIGN LANDS

(Continued from First Page.)

His announcement that Switzerland, nearly the size of New York City, has 500 associations, was received with great applause.

Charles E. Towson, as the representative of the industrial department of the international committee, delivered an address on the unlimited opportunities to do good which presented themselves to those connected with this department.

He told of the great need for the establishment of more mechanical departments in the educational system, and it is thought that his suggestions along these lines will be deeply considered, and probably adopted by the committee in charge of this department.

He suggested that the many thousands of home-seeking immigrants who are poured into the United States each year are one of the many fields for work open to the association.

Need Better Classes.

George B. Hodge, head of the educational department of the international committee, addressed the delegates on the subject of the necessity for widening the field now covered by this branch. He explained briefly the system of this department and emphasized the far-reaching effects which the educational part of the Y. M. C. A. is having on the youth of this country.

This afternoon the delegates will devote their time to sightseeing until 4:30 o'clock, when William Jennings Bryan will deliver an address from the south steps of the Treasury Department. If the weather is unfavorable, the meeting will be held in Convention Hall.

A MacDonald, of Toronto, and Bishop William F. McDowell, of Chicago, will speak in Convention Hall this evening.

Immense Gathering at Hall To Hear Ambassador Bryce And Gov. Glenn Speak

Yesterday's business and devotional exercises were concluded by one of the most enthusiastic meetings ever held in Convention Hall, the chief speakers of the evening being Ambassador James Bryce, of Great Britain, and Governor R. B. Glenn, of North Carolina.

The annual election of officers was held with the following results: President and chairman of the convention, Judge Selden P. Spencer, Missouri; first vice president, D. W. Ross, Montreal; second vice president, A. J. Wallace, California; third vice president, Senator J. F. Johnston, Alabama; fourth vice president, Gov. W. F. French, Hawaii; fifth vice president, E. P. Lyon, New York; sixth vice president, W. E. Sweet, Colorado; seventh vice president, C. F. Stevens, Manitoba; eighth vice president, A. S. Johnson, Massachusetts; ninth vice president, C. J. Hunt, Minnesota; tenth vice president, T. S. Lapp, Washington; secretary of the convention, F. L. Storratt, Colorado; first assistant secretary, Oscar Cox, Utah; second assistant secretary, A. Bruce Mineir, Panama Canal Zone; honorary president, R. Sarasin-Warney, Basle, Switzerland, chairman of the

From now on, Mr. Bryan will be quartered at the Raleigh Hotel, where he will receive his friends. Tonight he will deliver his address at the Washington University hall before the political science students of that institution on "Good Citizenship."

Mr. Bryan returned from Alexandria at 10 o'clock this morning and breakfasted at the residence of his old friend, Cotter T. Bide, where Mr. Bryan has been a guest since he came to Washington. After the breakfast, he went straight to the White House.

From now on, Mr. Bryan will be quartered at the Raleigh Hotel, where he will receive his friends. Tonight he will deliver his address at the Washington University hall before the political science students of that institution on "Good Citizenship."

Except for a few jokes about his political experiences, William Jennings Bryan said good-bye to politics last night and discoursed on his travels, his audi-

There's Music In The Air

all day long for the person whose appetite is good, whose blood circulates freely, and whose brain acts promptly, with precision and ease, at his bidding.

Improper food, by causing indigestion and imperfectly nourishing the brain and body, turns the "sweet sounds into jangling noise," and sunshine into darkest shadows.

There's a lot more in having the right kind of food than many rushing, worrying persons dream of.

If the "music has gone out of the air" for you, look to your food. Get down to natural, simple living. For a change eat and cream for breakfast, cut out the meat and "fried cakes"—try a slice or two of nice crisp Toast, and instead of Coffee drink Postum. Chances are you'll find, in a week or two, that "there's music in the air," and also that

Grape-Nuts

"There's a Reason" for

Grape-Nuts

THIRD-TERM SHOUTS OF U. S. OFFICIALS FORBIDDEN NOW

The President's order forbidding Federal office holders from pushing his third-term nomination has been received by the several Cabinet members. It reached most of them by mail this morning, and is characteristically straightforward—the-shoulder. If any one, after receiving such a letter can have the faintest doubt as to the President's attitude on the matter, he would seem to be rather dull of comprehension to say the least.

The exact text of the White House letter cannot be given, but the following is a substantially correct copy of the important missive:

"Sir: I am informed that certain office holders in your department and in various positions throughout the country contemplate attending Republican conventions in their respective States and urging the endorsement of myself for the Presidential nomination. I wish that you would direct the Federal officeholders in your department who have such a thing in view that I would regard it as an act of official impropriety and discourtesy."

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

H. A. PORTER ARRESTED BY MONTREAL OFFICER

The police have received a telegram from Silas Carpenter, chief of detectives of Montreal, Canada, saying that Henry A. Porter, who disappeared from Washington, October 8, has been arrested. Porter is said to have taken funds to the amount of $1,500 from a local banking firm, with offices in Montreal, and remained to jail for eight days, awaiting the arrival of a Washington officer, who will leave here this evening with a requisition.

The complainant against Porter is Frank C. Kingland.

ence being an enthusiastic throng of Alexandrians in the Alexandria Opera House. At the close of the lecture Mr. Bryan was presented with an immense floral wreath, bearing the inscription, "To William Jennings Bryan, the Next President of the United States."

There was no doubt about the Nebraskaan's popularity with his hearers as he lectured on "The Old World and its Ways." He told of Sweden, Turkey, the Holy Land, Russia and Japan. He described his audiences with the Mikado, King Edward, the Czar, and the Sultan of Sulu. Through his sentences, rich in the descriptive power, there ran a vein of light humor as he related the experiences of Mrs. Bryan and himself in their travels.

The lecture was thoroughly enjoyable.

Before the lecture Mr. Bryan had dinner at the home of the Rev. Charles D. Bulla, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, which has just completed the George R. Hill Memorial Building. It was for the benefit of this building that the lecture was given.

Colonel Bryan smiled again when he was asked if he had discussed financial matters with the President. "I cannot talk about my visit to the President," he replied. "I can only say we had a very pleasant chat."

It is rising at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon, Mr. Bryan, instead of making an address from the south steps of the Treasury building, will speak in Convention Hall, at Fifth and I streets northwest. The afternoon address is under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

Tonight he will speak in the Washington University hall before the political science students of that institution on "Good Citizenship."

Mr. Bryan returned from Alexandria at 10 o'clock this morning and breakfasted at the residence of his old friend, Cotter T. Bide, where Mr. Bryan has been a guest since he came to Washington. After the breakfast, he went straight to the White House.

From now on, Mr. Bryan will be quartered at the Raleigh Hotel, where he will receive his friends. Tonight he will deliver his address at the Washington University hall before the political science students of that institution on "Good Citizenship."

Except for a few jokes about his political experiences, William Jennings Bryan said good-bye to politics last night and discoursed on his travels, his audi-

Colonel Bryan smiled again when he was asked if he had discussed financial matters with the President. "I cannot talk about my visit to the President," he replied. "I can only say we had a very pleasant chat."

It is rising at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon, Mr. Bryan, instead of making an address from the south steps of the Treasury building, will speak in Convention Hall, at Fifth and I streets northwest. The afternoon address is under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

Tonight he will speak in the Washington University hall before the political science students of that institution on "Good Citizenship."

Mr. Bryan returned from Alexandria at 10 o'clock this morning and breakfasted at the residence of his old friend, Cotter T. Bide, where Mr. Bryan has been a guest since he came to Washington. After the breakfast, he went straight to the White House.

From now on, Mr. Bryan will be quartered at the Raleigh Hotel, where he will receive his friends. Tonight he will deliver his address at the Washington University hall before the political science students of that institution on "Good Citizenship."

Except for a few jokes about his political experiences, William Jennings Bryan said good-bye to politics last night and discoursed on his travels, his audi-

Colonel Bryan smiled again when he was asked if he had discussed financial matters with the President. "I cannot talk about my visit to the President," he replied. "I can only say we had a very pleasant chat."

It is rising at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon, Mr. Bryan, instead of making an address from the south steps of the Treasury building, will speak in Convention Hall, at Fifth and I streets northwest. The afternoon address is under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

Tonight he will speak in the Washington University hall before the political science students of that institution on "Good Citizenship."

Mr. Bryan returned from Alexandria at 10 o'clock this morning and breakfasted at the residence of his old friend, Cotter T. Bide, where Mr. Bryan has been a guest since he came to Washington. After the breakfast, he went straight to the White House.

From now on, Mr. Bryan will be quartered at the Raleigh Hotel, where he will receive his friends. Tonight he will deliver his address at the Washington University hall before the political science students of that institution on "Good Citizenship."

Except for a few jokes about his political experiences, William Jennings Bryan said good-bye to politics last night and discoursed on his travels, his audi-

Colonel Bryan smiled again when he was asked if he had discussed financial matters with the President. "I cannot talk about my visit to the President," he replied. "I can only say we had a very pleasant chat."

It is rising at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon, Mr. Bryan, instead of making an address from the south steps of the Treasury building, will speak in Convention Hall, at Fifth and I streets northwest. The afternoon address is under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

Tonight he will speak in the Washington University hall before the political science students of that institution on "Good Citizenship."

Mr. Bryan returned from Alexandria at 10 o'clock this morning and breakfasted at the residence of his old friend, Cotter T. Bide, where Mr. Bryan has been a guest since he came to Washington. After the breakfast, he went straight to the White House.

SHOT NEAR HEART; FIGHT OVER CARDS

Horace Ricketts, of Deerwood, Md., Treated at the Georgetown Hospital.

Shot through the left breast and dangerously wounded, Horace Ricketts, of Deerwood, Md., came to the Georgetown University Hospital this morning. Dr. Sweetnam examined his two wounds, and found that Ricketts' condition was precarious. After his injuries were dressed, however, the young man insisted on returning to his home.

Ricketts, who is a dairyman, about twenty-five years old, is said to have been shot by Edward Lowe, employed in a mill at Deerwood. The two are alleged to have been fighting over a card game and a bottle of whiskey. Lowe fired two shots at Ricketts, it is alleged, and both struck him in the muscles of the breast, just two inches from his heart. Ricketts' alleged assailant is now held at Rockville.

Julian Ricketts, a relative of the injured man, says he was present at the time of the shooting, but remembers nothing but two loud reports.

BOTH WERE SO LONELY NOW THEY ARE MARRIED

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Nov. 23.—With each one averring that their second matrimonial venture was due to the loneliness of their declining years, Joseph S. Bowers, of Hecktown, and Mrs. Mary Gue, of this place, each seventy years old today, were married by the Rev. I. W. Biebler, of the Lutheran Church.

Mrs. Bowers is a cousin of the late Judge O. H. Meyers, of this county.

VITAL RECORDS

Births.

William and Elizabeth O. Waller, girl, Joseph and Louisa Vinciguerra, girl, Eugene L. and George E. Silence, girl, Domenico and Maria Quilavento, boy, Charles L. and Minnie K. Murphy, boy, Garrison E. and Marion Long, girl, Michael J. and Margaret C. Gorman, girl, Ruffalo and Josephine Colella, girl, Rudolph W. and Belle C. Bishop, boy.

Marriage Licenses.

John A. Brown to Rachel Anna Richardson, John A. Jarrett to Mary K. Dwyer, Rockville, Md., Rhinehart Dampwolf to Grace Orwig, both of Philadelphia.

Deaths.

Charles Beavers, 48 years, 816 Seventh street northwest, Thomas J. Deese, 41 years, H street northwest, Joseph Grenner, 50 years, U. S. Soldiers' Home, Massie D. Hall, 81 years, 923 First street northwest, Margaret E. Rankin, 87 years, 1337 R street northwest, Mrs. E. A. Bennett, 84 years, 1003 North Carolina avenue southeast.

CEPHANA—Departed this life, Alexandria, Va., November 18, 1907, BALDIE HENRY CEPHANA, in his twenty-sixth year. Funeral from Vermont Avenue Baptist Church, Sunday, 2 p. m.

BENNETT—On Friday, November 22, 1907, at 1:40 p. m., at the residence of her granddaughter, Ida M. Hoffacker, 1908 North Carolina avenue southeast, REBECCA BENNETT.

Mrs. Bennett was eighty-four years old, and was born in New Jersey. Her husband, Henry Bennett, who died thirteen years ago, was for twenty years an employee of the navy yard. Mrs. Bennett was the mother of eight children, all of whom are dead. She leaves eight grandchildren, Mrs. Ida M. Hoffacker, Mrs. Susan Anton, Mrs. Clifford Fort, of Trenton, N. J., Mrs. A. W. Meager, of Syracuse, N. Y., and Harry Tatum, Elmer Tatum, Fred Tatum, and Walter Tatum, of Trenton.

McCULLOUGH—Suddenly, on Friday, November 22, at 12:45, at 855 First street northwest, ROBERT D. McCULLOUGH, son of the late John and Mary McCullough.

Robert D. McCullough was a native of Philadelphia, and for a long time prior to his death had been employed in the Government Printing Office. He was a member of the I. O. O. F. of health, he was forced to retire from active work. He was well known in organized labor circles. His death was caused by heart disease.

SHEPHERD—Departed this life on November 22, 1907, at 8 p. m., at his residence, 1012 street northwest, JOHN SHEPHERD. He leaves to mourn his loss a devoted wife, Caroline Shepherd, his children, Marion, David, Elizabeth, Rosie, Editha, and Susie Shepherd.

Funeral at Ashbury A. M. E. Church, Eleventh and K streets northwest, at 1 o'clock Sunday.

(Baltimore and Philadelphia papers please copy.)

KEITHLEY—On November 22, 1907, at 10 a. m., JOHN E. KEITHLEY, aged thirty-one years, beloved husband of Anna M. (nee Gray).

Mr. Keithley was born in Washington thirty-one years ago, and resided here throughout his life. He was a member of the I. O. O. F. and a five-year-old son, survive him.

Funeral services will be held at 11 o'clock with typical funeral and burial. He died yesterday morning, with his son at his bedside. Mr. Keithley was a prominent member of the Protective Home Circle and members that organization will attend his funeral.

HUTTON—On Wednesday, November 20, 1907, at 12:30 p. m., at his residence, 818 street northwest, MRS. SARAH A. HUTTON, mother of Jennie Hutton and relative of Mrs. Kate E. Seabury, 1112 Eleventh street northwest, where the body now rests.

Mrs. Hutton was sixty years old and was a native of Charles county, Md. She had been employed for thirty years as a nurse in the National Naval Medical Hospital, where she was highly esteemed by the officials of that institution.

RANKIN—On Sunday, November 17, 1907, at the residence of her niece, Dr. Elizabeth Muncy, MARGARET E. RANKIN.

Mrs. Rankin was eighty-seven years old. She was a member of McKendree M. E. Church and her life was devoted to church work. Mrs. Rankin was greatly interested in industrial schools and homes, to the support of which she contributed a large share of her means.

HICKEY—On Friday, November 22, 1907, after a lingering illness, GEORGE F. HICKEY, husband of Mrs. Mary Hickey, 22 M street southwest, at his residence, 22 M street southwest.

Funeral services will be held at 11 o'clock with typical funeral and burial. He died yesterday morning, with his son at his bedside. Mr. Hickey was a prominent member of the Protective Home Circle and members that organization will attend his funeral.

CEPHANA—Departed this life, Alexandria, Va., November 18, 1907, BALDIE HENRY CEPHANA, in his twenty-sixth year. Funeral from Vermont Avenue Baptist Church, Sunday, 2 p. m.

BENNETT—On Friday, November 22, 1907, at 1:40 p. m., at the residence of her granddaughter, Ida M. Hoffacker, 1908 North Carolina avenue southeast, REBECCA BENNETT.

Mrs. Bennett was eighty-four years old, and was born in New Jersey. Her husband, Henry Bennett, who died thirteen years ago, was for twenty years an employee of the navy yard. Mrs. Bennett was the mother of eight children, all of whom are dead. She leaves eight grandchildren, Mrs. Ida M. Hoffacker, Mrs. Susan Anton, Mrs. Clifford Fort, of Trenton, N. J., Mrs. A. W. Meager, of Syracuse, N. Y., and Harry Tatum, Elmer Tatum, Fred Tatum, and Walter Tatum, of Trenton.

McCULLOUGH—Suddenly, on Friday, November 22, at 12:45, at 855 First street northwest, ROBERT D. McCULLOUGH, son of the late John and Mary McCullough.

Robert D. McCullough was a native of Philadelphia, and for a long time prior to his death had been employed in the Government Printing Office. He was a member of the I. O. O. F. of health, he was forced to retire from active work. He was well known in organized labor circles. His death was caused by heart disease.

SHEPHERD—Departed this life on November 22, 1907, at 8 p. m., at his residence, 1012 street northwest, JOHN SHEPHERD. He leaves to mourn his loss a devoted wife, Caroline Shepherd, his children, Marion, David, Elizabeth, Rosie, Editha, and Susie Shepherd.

Died.

CEPHANA—Departed this life, Alexandria, Va., November 18, 1907, BALDIE HENRY CEPHANA, in his twenty-sixth year. Funeral from Vermont Avenue Baptist Church, Sunday, 2 p. m.

BENNETT—On Friday, November 22, 1907, at 1:40 p. m., at the residence of her granddaughter, Ida M. Hoffacker, 1908 North Carolina avenue southeast, REBECCA BENNETT.

Mrs. Bennett was eighty-four years old, and was born in New Jersey. Her husband, Henry Bennett, who died thirteen years ago, was for twenty years an employee of the navy yard. Mrs. Bennett was the mother of eight children, all of whom are dead. She leaves eight grandchildren, Mrs. Ida M. Hoffacker, Mrs. Susan Anton, Mrs. Clifford Fort, of Trenton, N. J., Mrs. A. W. Meager, of Syracuse, N. Y., and Harry Tatum, Elmer Tatum, Fred Tatum, and Walter Tatum, of Trenton.

McCULLOUGH—Suddenly, on Friday, November 22, at 12:45, at 855 First street northwest, ROBERT D. McCULLOUGH, son of the late John and Mary McCullough.

Robert D. McCullough was a native of Philadelphia, and for a long time prior to his death had been employed in the Government Printing Office. He was a member of the I. O. O. F. of health, he was forced to retire from active work. He was well known in organized labor circles. His death was caused by heart disease.

SHEPHERD—Departed this life on November 22, 1907, at 8 p. m., at his residence, 1012 street northwest, JOHN SHEPHERD. He leaves to mourn his loss a devoted wife, Caroline Shepherd, his children, Marion, David, Elizabeth, Rosie, Editha, and Susie Shepherd.

Funeral at Ashbury A. M. E. Church, Eleventh and K streets northwest, at 1 o'clock Sunday.

(Baltimore and Philadelphia papers please copy.)

KEITHLEY—On November 22, 1907, at 10 a. m., JOHN E. KEITHLEY, aged thirty-one years, beloved husband of Anna M. (nee Gray).

Mr. Keithley was born in Washington thirty-one years ago, and resided here throughout his life. He was a member of the I. O. O. F. and a five-year-old son, survive him.

Funeral services will be held at 11 o'clock with typical funeral and burial. He died yesterday morning, with his son at his bedside. Mr. Keithley was a prominent member of the Protective Home Circle and members that organization will attend his funeral.

HUTTON—On Wednesday, November 20, 1907, at 12:30 p. m., at his residence, 818 street northwest, MRS. SARAH A. HUTTON, mother of Jennie Hutton and relative of Mrs. Kate E. Seabury, 1112 Eleventh street northwest, where the body now rests.

Mrs. Hutton was sixty years old and was a native of Charles county, Md. She had been employed for thirty years as a nurse in the National Naval Medical Hospital, where she was highly esteemed by the officials of that institution.

RANKIN—On Sunday, November 17, 1907, at the residence of her niece, Dr. Elizabeth Muncy, MARGARET E. RANKIN.

Mrs. Rankin was eighty-seven years old. She was a member of McKendree M. E. Church and her life was devoted to church work. Mrs. Rankin was greatly interested in industrial schools and homes, to the support of which she contributed a large share of her means.

HICKEY—On Friday, November 22, 1907, after a lingering illness, GEORGE F. HICKEY, husband of Mrs. Mary Hickey, 22 M street southwest, at his residence, 22 M street southwest.

Funeral services will be held at 11 o'clock with typical funeral and burial. He died yesterday morning, with his son at his bedside. Mr. Hickey was a prominent member of the Protective Home Circle and members that organization will attend his funeral.

CEPHANA—Departed this life, Alexandria, Va., November 18, 1907, BALDIE HENRY CEPHANA, in his twenty-sixth year. Funeral from Vermont Avenue Baptist Church, Sunday, 2 p. m.

BENNETT—On Friday, November 22, 1907, at 1:40 p. m., at the residence of her granddaughter, Ida M. Hoffacker, 1908 North Carolina avenue southeast, REBECCA BENNETT.

Mrs. Bennett was eighty-four years old, and was born in New Jersey. Her husband, Henry Bennett, who died thirteen years ago, was for